UT TeleCampus

Online courses and degrees from The University of Texas System

Student shortcuts: Course Login TIS Academic Calendars

Catalog

Enrollment

UTTC Digital Library

Technical Support

Faculty Resources >>

Partnering with the UTTC

Course Development

Course Management

Faculty Resources FAQs

About UTTC

Contact Us

Faculty Resources
>
Course Development

The UT TeleCampus provides support in:

- instructional design. Faculty are encouraged to take the free, self-paced award winning Instructional Design Tutorial created by the UT TeleCampus. This is just one of many course development resources available;
  - faculty and staff training;
- course production assistance;
  - technical support; and

- course review services.

The course development process includes:

- faculty completion of the UT System Office of General Counsel's online Copyright Basics course (access will be given before faculty training) and agreements;
  - faculty completion of the Principles of Good Practice Self-Study [129KB] ; Adobe Acrobat Reader is needed to view this PDF document.
    - course content production and loading; and
  - full technical and editorial review. The Course Development Schedule includes a thorough technical and editorial review of all aspects of the course.

View the Course Development Schedule:

- Summer 07.doc [118KB] Fall 07.doc [55KB] Summer 07.pdf [225KB] Fall 07.pdf [226KB]] Adobe Acrobat Reader is needed to view this PDF poster.
- GeneralOne [151KB] GeneralOne [51KB] Adobe Acrobat Reader is needed to view this PDF poster.

For additional information, contact the UTTC Course Development department at uttccoursedev@utsystem.edu.

Last Updated: February 14, 2007   Print   Back   Top

Search UTTC:

[   ] Go

Advanced search link

Find out more information about the next UTTC Course Development and Management Training.

Check out the UTTC Digital Library services for faculty.

Back To Top | Privacy Policy | Compact With Texans
U.T. System | Access Information | Disclosure | Site Map