International Education Services

Welcome to AACRAO's International Education Services (IES) webpage. This page serves as a resource center for AACRAO member institutions and the public. The staff of OIES responds to questions regarding educational systems and institutions outside the U.S. educational system, and responds to questions from abroad about the U.S. system of education.

IES provides a number of services which help support AACRAO's international education programs. Click on a link below to learn more about AACRAO's international services.

What is EducationUSA? The Educational and Cultural Affairs Bureau of the U.S. Department of State (ECA) supports a network of more than 450 educational advising centers around the world whose mission is to promote U.S. higher education to prospective international students.

Student and Exchange Visitor's Information System (SEVIS)

This is the first of what we hope will be many AACRAO International Education Services web-based papers on a variety of topics of interest to those who deal with the admission and placement of international students. This discussion will give an overview of SEVIS and related regulations of interest to registrars and leaders of admission offices. It is not designed as a "how-to manual." Those responsible for advising students and/or making decisions about SEVIS will want to read and become familiar with the regulations and refer to more detailed resources. This paper will describe how SEVIS is designed to function and identify processing, policy, and advising issues resulting from these regulations.
