

GEOS 6205-001 – GEOSCIENCES PRESENTATIONS – FALL 2005

Course Outline:

1. Six talks (all videotaped, replayed, and reviewed)
 - a. One 3 minute (extemporaneous) without lectern
 - b. One 3 minute (extemporaneous) with lectern
 - c. One 5-7 minutes with no visual aids or lectern
 - d. One 5-7 minutes with overheads
 - e. One 5-7 minutes with power point or 35 mm slides
 - f. One 12 minutes with power point or 35 mm slides

2. Seminar critiques (a minimum of 6).

Instructor: James I. Carter (FO 2.218A; 972-883-2455; jcarter@utdallas.edu)

Office Hours: Friday 1:30 p.m. to 1:55 p.m., and by appointment

Text: None; Handouts

Lecture Room: JO 4.614

Lecture Time: Friday 2:00 p.m. to 3:50 p.m.; Seminars at 4:00 p.m.

Pre-requisites: Admittance to Geosciences Graduate Program or permission of Instructor

This course provides students with the hows and whys of good scientific presentation, some experience in giving oral presentations based on literature or research interests, and critiquing of oral presentations.