Recommendations

Trey Rutherford: CPR Analyst at Lockheed Martin*Teammate at Bank of America*

"I had the pleasure of working with Taimur in the Global Access Operations team at Bank of America. During our time together as colleagues Taimur demonstrated great leadership skills paired with strong technical skills and a hard working mentality, all of which earned him the position of a lead analyst for the newly created GAO team. Taimur made sure he was approachable and friendly amongst his other colleagues and managers, which greatly added value to the team as a whole. I can definitely say that Taimur is one of the rare individuals who is truly dedicated to his work and work ethic, I would highly recommend Taimur to any business or company that would have him."

Ivan E. Burrell I: Access Analyst at CompuGain*Teammate at Bank of America*

"Taimur is the consummate business professional. His professional demeanor is world-class and his expertise as a security analyst is second to none."

Jeremy Bassier: Service Delivery Manager at TEKsystems*Manager at TEKsystems*

"Taimur is a highly dedicated and driven individual who always strives for excellence in everything he does. When hired in this new role, he really jumped in with both feet and was eager to learn and embrace the opportunity. Taimur has great technical aptitude but also excellent interpersonal and communication skills and he would definitely be an asset to any team."

Davie Buyanga: Assistant Vice President at Citi*Academic Peer at The University of Texas at Dallas*

"I have had the pleasure of collaborating with Taimur on two group projects. He has great communication skills that helped cultivate collaboration between team members as we pursued our projects deliverables. He is a great team contributor, who has an inquisitive mind that pushed us to answer pertinent questions as we progressed with our projects. He is a great asset to have on any project, and I have no hesitation in recommending him to be a member of any project."
