ASTRONAUT SCHOLARSHIP FOUNDATION

ASTRONAUT SCHOLARSHIP

AWARD DETAILS

Emphasis

Academic, Research

Brief Description of the Award

The Astronaut Scholarship Foundation awarded its first seven scholarships in 1986. Each founding Mercury 7 astronaut sponsored a $1,000 scholarship and they then began to fundraise to support future scholarships. Each astronaut would donate proceeds from their speaking engagements and shared the ASF mission wherever they went to raise awareness of both the mission and the scholarship program. Today, the Astronaut Scholarship Foundation awards more than 60 scholarships valued up to $15,000 to each selected scholar. Scholarship programming includes an Astronaut Scholar conference, mentorship, professional development, networking and recognition. This is the beginning of a life-changing experience for Astronaut Scholars that launches students to positively change and influence society through innovation.

AMERICAN INDIA FOUNDATION (AIF)

BANYAN IMPACT FELLOWSHIP

AWARD DETAILS

Emphasis

Experiential, US-India Civic Diplomacy

Brief Description of the Award

Affirming that we are the generation to end extreme poverty, combat climate change, and conquer injustice, the American India Foundation's Banyan Impact Fellowship uses service for social impact, building a "living bridge" between the US and India. It's a fully-funded, interdisciplinary experiential learning program that places young and experienced professionals from India and the US in service with communities across India. Through collaboration and capacity-building, fellows and local communities exchange knowledge and skills to steer projects that advance social and economic development. Fellows contribute through fieldwork, mentorship, and conferences over the course of the program. The core program runs for 10 months from September 1-July 2.

Award Stipend/Benefits

Fully funded program that trains, supports, and places fellows with communities in India for service projects. AIF provides professional development through mentorship, workshops, and thematic conferences throughout the program. Fellows receive a stipend, comprehensive insurance coverage, access to a private counselor, and 24/7 emergency support. AIF offers support for Fellows with disabilities who require special accommodations and/or assistive technology to participate. All program-related travel, visa support, language training, and international airfare is covered by AIF. Fellows enjoy access to a global network of 500+ Alumni.

CRITICAL LANGUAGE SCHOLARSHIP

AWARD DETAILS

Emphasis

Academic, Language, Experiential, Travel

Brief Description of the Award

The CLS Program partners with universities and nonprofits around the globe to provide cohorts of U.S. students an opportunity to study the language and culture in a country/location where the target language is commonly spoken. The CLS Program, through its CLS Spark initiative, also provides beginner-level virtual instruction for Arabic, Chinese, and Russian for competitively selected U.S. undergraduate students whose home campuses do not offer these languages. CLS scholars are expected to continue their language study beyond the scholarship and apply their critical language skills in their future careers.

The U.S. Department of State sponsors and oversees the CLS Program, including CLS Spark, as part of a larger U.S. government effort to expand the number of Americans studying and mastering foreign languages that are critical to our national security, economic prosperity, and engagement with the world. CLS provides opportunities to a diverse range of students from across the entire United States at every level of language learning.

Award Stipend/Benefits

The CLS Program is a full scholarship that for the duration of the program, and includes:

- Intensive group-based language courses (15+ hours per week for overseas, 10 hours per week for Spark)
- Undergraduate academic credit for a year's worth of language classes
- Room and board, often with a host family (overseas only)
- Host community engagement opportunities
- Group cultural excursions organized by the host community
- Round-trip international travel to program site (overseas only)- Small stipend to cover incidental expenses and meals not otherwise provided by the Program (overseas only)
- Small stipend to bolster internet and computer technologies (Spark only)
- Certified American Council on the Teaching of Foreign Languages (ACTFL) Oral Proficiency Interview (OPI) score (post-program)
- Non-competitive eligibility for employment with U.S. government agencies.

FULBRIGHT U.S. STUDENT PROGRAM

AWARD DETAILS

Emphasis

Academic, Research, Language, Experiential, Travel, English Teaching Assistantships

Brief Description of the Award

The Fulbright U.S. Student Program expands perspectives through academic and professional advancement and cross-cultural dialogue. Fulbright creates connections in a complex and changing world. In partnership with more than 140 countries worldwide, the Fulbright U.S. Student Program offers unparalleled opportunities in all academic and artistic disciplines to passionate and accomplished graduating college seniors, graduate students, and young professionals from all backgrounds. Program participants pursue graduate study, conduct research, or teach English abroad.

During their grants, Fulbrighters will meet, work, live with and learn from the people of the host country, sharing daily experiences. The program facilitates cultural exchange through direct interaction on an individual basis in the classroom, field, home, and in routine tasks, allowing the grantee to gain an appreciation of others' viewpoints and beliefs, the way they do things, and the way they think. Through engagement in the community, individuals will interact with their hosts on a one-to-one basis in an atmosphere of openness, academic integrity, and intellectual freedom, thereby promoting mutual understanding.

Fulbright is the flagship international exchange program sponsored by the U.S. Department of State in partnership with over 140 countries worldwide.

Grant lengths and dates vary by country. Please consult the specific country summary for details at www.us.fulbrightonline.org.

Award Stipend/Benefits

Grant benefits for all Fulbright U.S. Student grants include:

- Accident & Sickness Health Benefits
- 24/7 support line for urgent and non-urgent situations
- 12 months of non-competitive eligibility (NCE) hiring status within the federal government

AWARD DETAILS

Additional grant benefits for Fulbright U.S. Student grants to Post countries:

- round-trip transportation to the host country
- funding to cover room, board, and incidental costs, based on the cost of living in the
- host country
- pre-departure and/or in-country orientations

For additional grant benefits for Fulbright U.S. Student grants to Commission countries:

FULBRIGHT U.S. STUDENT PROGRAM

Please review the website of the appropriate Fulbright Commission as benefits may differ significantly.

Based on award and country, some grants may also include: book and research allowances*, mid-term enrichment activities, full or partial tuition, language study programs.

*Grantees with projects that require extensive research support, in-country travel, study materials, or equipment should explore additional funding from other sources to supplement the Fulbright funding.

All English Teaching Assistants (ETAs) receive an additional grant benefit: 60-hour online TESOL Fundamentals Course. This course must be completed prior to the pre-departure orientation in the United States for participants in Post countries or the in-country arrival orientation for participants in Commission countries. Those ETAs who already have TESOL certification or equivalent coursework are exempt from completing this online course.

GATES CAMBRIDGE

GATES CAMBRIDGE SCHOLARSHIP

AWARD DETAILS

Emphasis

Academic, Research

Brief Description of the Award

The Gates Cambridge Scholarship programme was established in October 2000 by a donation of US$210m from the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation to the University of Cambridge; this is the largest ever single donation to a UK university.

Each year Gates Cambridge offers c.80 full-cost scholarships to outstanding applicants from countries outside the UK to pursue a range of full-time, postgraduate degrees at the University of Cambridge. From October 2023, part-time PhD applications will also be considered. Approximately two-thirds of these awards will be offered to PhD students, with approximately 20 awards available in the US selection round and 60 available in the International selection round.

There are at least 225 Scholars from c. 50 countries studying in Cambridge at any one time, who are spread across its departments and Colleges.

The Gates Cambridge mission is to build a global network of future leaders committed to improving the lives of others. It aims to achieve this mission by selecting outstanding scholars, providing them with financial and non-financial support at one of the world's leading universities and facilitating community building at and beyond Cambridge.

Award Stipend/Benefits

A Gates Cambridge Scholarship covers the full cost of studying at Cambridge. It also provides additional, discretionary funding.

Core components:

- 1) the University Composition Fee (tuition fee) at the appropriate rate for the course.
- 2) a maintenance allowance for a single student (£20,000 for 12 months at the 2023-24 rate; pro rata for courses shorter than 12 months) – for PhD scholars the award is for up to 4 years.
- 3) one economy single airfare at both the beginning and end of the course.
- 4) inbound student visa costs and the cost of the Immigration Health Surcharge (to access UK national healthcare services).

Discretionary Components:

Once in residence, Scholars can apply for additional funding on a discretionary basis:

- 1) Academic development funding to attend conferences and courses – up to £500 per year (maximum £2,000 for a PhD student).
- 2) Childcare allowance – up to £11,604 for one child and up to £16,548 for two or more children (2023-24 rate) living in Cambridge. No funding is provided for a partner.

Gates Cambridge
GATES CAMBRIDGE SCHOLARSHIP

- 3) Maternity/Paternity funding – Scholars can apply to intermit their studies for up to 6 months and continue to receive their maintenance allowance during this time.
- 4) Hardship funding – for unforeseen difficulties.

Brief Description of the Award

The Mellon Mays Gap Assistance Program (Mellon Mays GAP) helps Mellon Mays Fellows who have recently graduated maintain their graduate school ambitions and progress towards an academic career. Mellon Mays GAP provides the resources that Mellon Mays Fellows who are now successful graduate students and Ph.D.s cited as critical for getting through the gap year(s). Fellows are placed on one of two tracks—either a six-month or a full-year curriculum—based on their timeline to apply to graduate school.

Award Stipend/Benefits

Structured template of gap year activities with staff follow-up and accountability with peers on your track. Live and on-demand media resources including webinar courses, handouts, video interviews with more senior Fellows. Predoctoral coaching and mentoring, regional events and virtual conversations. Graduate school intensive bootcamps in spring and fall (most expenses paid) to prepare for graduate school.

ICWA FELLOWSHIP

AWARD DETAILS

Emphasis

Research, Experiential, Travel, Writing

Brief Description of the Award

ICWA advances deep knowledge of global cultures and affairs. We achieve that by supporting fellows for two-year immersive programs of independent research and writing abroad.

Award Stipend/Benefits

ICWA provides full financial support for its fellows and their immediate accompanying families. "Full financial support" does not mean unlimited financial support; fellows are expected to live and spend modestly.

Additional Requirements

Applicants must have excellent written and spoken English-language skills and must have completed the current phase of their formal education. (We do not accept applications from currently enrolled undergraduate students.)

We expect candidates to have the necessary language skills to allow to them to carry out their proposed projects. That means enough language proficiency for them to be able to function in the local language within a few months of arriving in country.

ICWA FellowshipCANDIDATE PROFILE*Key Characteristics Sought by Review Committee

We are looking for promise, curiosity and enthusiasm in candidates, and consider whether they are ready for the rapid personal growth the fellowship makes possible. Extensive professional experience in a proposed area is not always necessary; fellowships are aimed at developing local knowledge and writing skills, not necessarily awarding research or reporting opportunities to those who already possess them.

THE KNIGHT-HENNESSY SCHOLARS PROGRAM

KNIGHT-HENNESSY SCHOLARS

AWARD DETAILS

Emphasis

Academic, Research, Language, Experiential, Travel, Leadership Development

Brief Description of the Award

Knight-Hennessy Scholars cultivates and supports a multidisciplinary and multicultural community of graduate students from across Stanford University, and delivers engaging experiences that prepare graduates to be visionary, courageous, and collaborative leaders who address complex challenges facing the world. Our leadership program has three goals: to broaden our scholars' multicultural perspective, to prepare scholars to drive meaningful results, and to deepen their commitment to a greater good. Each year we aim to select up to 100 graduate students based on their demonstration of independence of thought, purposeful leadership, and a civic mindset, and we fund up to three years of graduate study.

Award Stipend/Benefits

With founding gifts totaling more than $750 million, Knight Hennessy Scholars is the largest fully endowed graduate fellowship in the world. Our endowment funds both the leadership development program and our scholars' graduate studies. As a Knight-Hennessy scholar, students receive financial support that fully covers tuition and associated fees for up to three years of graduate study. If a degree program exceeds three years, then students will explore funding options with the Stanford department that offers their degree.

In addition to tuition and fees, scholars also receive a stipend for living and academic expenses and a travel grant to cover one annual economy-class ticket to and from Stanford. Scholars are also eligible to apply for supplemental funds supporting academic enrichment activities.

Knight-Hennessy Scholars applicants must also apply and be admitted to a Stanford degree program to be selected as a scholar.

CANDIDATE PROFILE

Key Characteristics Sought by Review Committee

We seek scholars who demonstrate three evaluation criteria:

INDEPENDENCE OF THOUGHT: We seek visionary thinkers who are curious, open-minded, analytical, eager for cross-cultural perspective, and genuinely excited to boldly and creatively address our world's important challenges.

PURPOSEFUL LEADERSHIP: We seek courageous leaders who are ethical, decisive, resilient, driven to achieve meaningful results, and motivated to inspire others to effect positive change at scale.

CIVIC MINDSET: We seek collaborative community members who are humble, empathetic, trustworthy, oriented to act in service of others, and deeply passionate about contributing to the greater good.

THE HENRY LUCE FOUNDATION

LUCE SCHOLARS PROGRAM

AWARD DETAILS

Experiential

Brief Description of the Award

The Luce Scholars Program, a nationally competitive fellowship program, was launched by the Henry Luce Foundation in 1974. It offers a year of immersive living and working experience in Asia designed to introduce this diverse region to talented, public interest-minded young Americans. The program provides stipends, language training, and individualized professional placement in Asia for 15-18 Luce Scholars each year, and welcomes applications from college seniors, graduate students, and young professionals in a wide range of fields and from a variety of backgrounds who have had limited exposure to Asia.

The program, with its focus on experiential and cohort learning, cultivates a unique brand of leadership based on intellectual curiosity, a capacity for learning, and a willingness to serve others. The Scholars' personal and professional growth is not only transformative for them during their Luce year, but also continues to impact their trajectories as they maintain their ties to Asia and make contributions to their fields and communities in the United States and elsewhere.

- Candidates may be graduating seniors, recent graduates, or young professionals under the age of 32, OR if older than 32, candidates must have received their bachelor's degree within the past three years
- Candidates who have spent a significant amount of time (18 weeks or more since beginning college) in more than one of the countries where we place Luce Scholars are not eligible to apply for the Luce.
- Candidates who have spent 18 weeks or more (since beginning college) in only one of the countries where we place Luce Scholars are eligible to apply but will not be placed in the country where they have spent significant time.

CANDIDATE PROFILE

Key Characteristics Sought by Review Committee

The Luce Foundation is committed to nurturing a new generation of leaders with the humility, curiosity, and cultural competency needed to work collaboratively on a global stage. Successful candidates should have a record of high achievement, outstanding leadership potential, and clearly defined interests.

The Luce Scholars Program is experiential rather than academic in nature. Personal qualities such as resilience, flexibility, adaptability, humility, maturity, creativity, openness to new ideas, and sensitivity to cultural differences are as important as academic achievement. Candidates are not judged on the basis of whether or not they have developed specific plans for their year in Asia. A candidate may have general ideas about the kind of placement preferred, but this is not considered as either a negative or positive factor.

We strive for diversity, equity, and inclusion in all aspects of the Luce Scholars Program; they are critical to our mission of developing young leaders and to the future of American society. In the selection process, we broadly consider candidates' unique perspectives and experiences, including but not limited to those of marginalization, disadvantage, or hardship, and how they faced or overcame such challenges, which may be rooted or reflected in race, ethnicity, sexual orientation, gender expression, economic status, disability, and/or religious belief, as well as family background (e.g. first-generation American, or first-generation to college).

MARSHALL AID COMMEMORATION COMMISSION

MARSHALL SCHOLARSHIP

AWARD DETAILS

Emphasis

Academic

Brief Description of the Award

Marshall Scholarships finance young Americans of high ability to study for a degree in the United Kingdom. Up to fifty Scholars are selected each year to study at graduate level at an UK institution in any field of study.

As future leaders, with a lasting understanding of British society, Marshall Scholars strengthen the enduring relationship between the British and American peoples, their governments and their institutions. Marshall Scholars are talented, independent and wide-ranging, and their time as Scholars enhances their intellectual and personal growth. Their direct engagement with Britain through its best academic programmes contributes to their ultimate personal success.

Award Stipend/Benefits

University fees, cost of living expenses, annual book grant, thesis grant, research and daily travel grants, fares to and from the United States and, where applicable, a contribution towards the support of a dependent spouse.

Minimum GPA 3.7

Additional Requirements

Open only to United States citizens who (at the time they take up their Scholarship) hold a first degree from an accredited four-year college or university in the United States with a minimum GPA of 3.7. To qualify for awards tenable from October 2024, candidates must have graduated from their undergraduate college or university after April 2021. Persons already studying for or holding a British degree or degree-equivalent qualification are not eligible to apply for a Marshall Scholarship.

CANDIDATE PROFILE

Key Characteristics Sought by Review Committee

ACADEMIC MERIT:

1. Quality of Programme of study. Is the proposed programme coherent and well thought through? Does the candidate's writing give evidence of higher-order thinking skills and the ability to express thoughts clearly and without jargon?
2. Knowledge of Proposed Courses and Supervisors. Has the candidate established the relevance of the proposed academic programme to his or her scholarly and career plans and, in the case of a research proposal, provided evidence of substantive engagement with the proposed supervisor(s)? Is there a compelling academic rationale for doing the work at a British university with Marshall support?
3. Evidence of Academic Background that is Strong and Relevant. Does the transcript show evidence of high academic achievement? Does this coursework prepare the candidate for the planned field of study? Is there other evidence of high-level performance (e.g. merit scholarships, academic prizes, research results, artistic creations, publications)?
4. Quality and Breadth of Recommendations. Are the recommendations excellent and from people who know the candidate and can make informed comparisons with many other students? Do the recommendations, taken together, provide specific and well-documented details about leadership and ambassadorial potential as well as academic excellence?

LEADERSHIP POTENTIAL:

1. Ability to Deliver Results. Can the candidate demonstrate how he or she delivered results from a position of leadership - whether by organizing, mobilizing or inspiring others. This may have been through his/her intellectual or artistic contributions or in other ways. Is there evidence that the candidate initiated something and carried it through to an outcome? Is the candidate likely to attain a position of influence in his/her field of expertise?
2. Strength of Purpose. Has the applicant demonstrated courage of conviction, persistence, and determination in the pursuit of his or her goals? Do the candidate's extra-curricular activities indicate commitment?
3. Creativity. Is there evidence of creativity and innovation in the candidate's approach to answering questions or solving problems?
4. Self-Awareness. Is there evidence of a strong desire to contribute to society? Is the candidate aware of his or her role in particular activities and impact on other people? Can the candidate explain what changed as a result of his or her involvement in something?

AMBASSADORIAL POTENTIAL:

1. Knowledge of US/UK Relations. Is there evidence that the candidate understands the general US/UK relationship, as well as specific aspects of this relationship that are pertinent to his or her field of study? Is the candidate aware of opportunities for on-going relationships with UK counterparts?

The Commission are looking for candidates who have the potential to excel as scholars, as leaders and as contributors to improved UK-US understanding. In doing so, the Commission recognise the value of diversity among applicants and promote equality of opportunity.

The selection criteria are divided into three equally weighted categories:

- Academic Merit
- Leadership Potential
- Ambassadorial Potential

To be eligible, candidates should:

Be citizens of the United States of America (at the time they apply for a scholarship);

(By the time they take up their scholarship i.e. September 2024) hold their first undergraduate degree from an accredited four-year college or university in the United States;

Have obtained a grade point average of not less than 3.7 on their undergraduate degree at the time of application. We do not accept rounded GPA's.

Have graduated from their first undergraduate college or university after April 2021.

Not have studied for, or hold a degree or degree-equivalent qualification from a British University or GCSE or A Levels taken at school in the UK

Candidates should understand the programme objectives and demonstrate their commitment to studying in the UK.

MARSHALL SHERFIELD FELLOWSHIP

AWARD DETAILS

Emphasis

Research, Postdoctoral Fellowship

Brief Description of the Award

The Fellowships, which are funded by the Marshall Sherfield Fellowship Foundation, and administered by the Marshall Commission, enable American scientists or engineers to undertake post-doctoral research for a period of two academic years at a British university or research institute.

The Fellowships are named after Sir Roger Makins FRS, later Lord Sherfield (1904-1996), British Ambassador to the United States from 1953 to 1956 and the architect of the Marshall Scholarships programme. He went on to be the Chairman of the Marshall Commission, and of the UK Atomic Energy Authority, and from 1970-1992 was Chancellor of the University of Reading.

The aim of the Marshall Sherfield Fellowships is to introduce American scientists and engineers to the cutting edge of UK science and engineering. It is intended that this in turn will build longer-term contacts and international links between the United Kingdom and the United States in key scientific areas. The wider objectives are similar to those of the Marshall Scholarships programme:

- To enable intellectually distinguished young Americans, their country's future leaders, to study in the UK.
- To help fellows gain an understanding and appreciation of contemporary Britain.
- To contribute to the advancement of knowledge in science and technology at Britain's centres of academic excellence.
- To motivate fellows to act as ambassadors from the USA to the UK and vice versa throughout their lives thus strengthening British American understanding.
- To promote the personal and academic fulfilment of each fellow.

Post-doctoral research in any area of science and/or engineering

CANDIDATE PROFILEKey Characteristics Sought by Review Committee

To be eligible to apply, candidates must:

- Be citizens of the United States of America normally resident in the USA.
- Hold a doctorate in a science or engineering subject by the time they take up their Fellowship.

In appointing Fellows, the selectors will look for distinction of intellect and character as evidenced both by their scholastic attainments and by their other activities and achievements. Candidates, who will be expected to pursue high level research during their Fellowship, should demonstrate an outward-looking disposition, good communications skills and the potential to promote British-American understanding. Preference will be given to candidates who combine high academic ability with the capacity to play an active part in the life of the United Kingdom university or research institute to which they go, and to those who display a potential to make a significant contribution to their own society. Selectors will also look for strong motivation and seriousness of purpose, including the presentation of a specific and realistic research programme. As such, candidates will be asked to outline the UK universities or research institutions and departments in which you they are proposing to work if awarded a Fellowship and provide details where research proposals have already been agreed with contacts at these universities or institutions. These Fellowships are not available for the study of a higher degree.

MARSHALL-MOTLEY SCHOLARS PROGRAM

AWARD DETAILS

Emphasis

Academic

Brief Description of the Award

Established by the NAACP Legal Defense Fund (LDF), the Marshall-Motley Scholars Program (MMSP) is committed to identifying and investing in the next generation of aspiring lawyers dedicated to pursuing racial justice in the South, and for whom this work is a personal and professional calling. The MMSP will support and develop the next wave of civil rights lawyers in the South, where the majority of Black Americans live. Over the next five years, we will invest in the establishment of a corps of 50 civil rights attorneys equipped and prepared to advocate on behalf of Black communities in the South seeking racial justice and equity.

Award Stipend/Benefits

Scholars who demonstrate a commitment to the mission of the Marshall-Motley Scholars Program will be afforded: a full law school scholarship for tuition, room and board, and incidentals to alleviate the debt burden that can prevent future lawyers from pursuing a career as a civil rights lawyer; summer internships with national and regional civil rights organizations with offices in the South focused on racial justice to jumpstart training in civil rights law; two-year postgraduate fellowship at civil rights law organizations in the South fighting to achieve racial justice; and access to special trainings sponsored by LDF and the National Academy of Sciences.

NATIONAL INSTITUTES OF HEALTH (NIH)

INTRAMURAL NIAID RESEARCH OPPORTUNITIES (INRO)

AWARD DETAILS

Emphasis

Research

Brief Description of the Award

Intramural NIAID Research Opportunities (INRO) promotes biomedical research training in allergic, immunologic, or infectious diseases. Applicants for INRO should be talented senior-level undergraduate students, those who have recently completed a master's degree, or those who are in their final year of a master's degree program. Through INRO, the NIAID Office of Research Training & Development (ORTD) sponsors postbaccalaureate research trainees (postbacs) from U.S. populations underrepresented in the biomedical sciences and those dedicated to promoting diversity and inclusion — as defined by Notice of NIH's Interest in Diversity Notice. Individuals from underrepresented populations and/or disadvantaged backgrounds are strongly encouraged to apply.

Candidates must demonstrate a strong commitment to the promotion of diversity and inclusion in the biomedical sciences and be actively pursuing a postbac research training position – also called an Intramural Research Training Award (IRTA) – in NIAID at the time of their INRO application.

If selected for INRO, finalists will have the opportunity to get to know the other finalists in their cohort and meet with prospective NIAID mentors, with the expectation that all finalists will join an NIAID laboratory and start their postbaccalaureate training on June 10, 2024.

Award Stipend/Benefits

NIH IRTA stipends are updated annually and available publicly online. Stipends vary depending on training and experience level. For specific information related to NIAID program stipends, contact NIAIDTraining@nih.gov.

Research

Brief Description of the Award

The National Institutes of Health (NIH) Intramural Research Training Awards are designed to provide advanced training and practical research experiences for the principal benefit of the participant and to provide opportunities for developmental training and practical research experience in a variety of disciplines related to biomedical research, medical library research, and related fields.

To promote and develop the next generation of biomedical researchers, NIAID is committed to offering a broad spectrum of paid training opportunities, ranging from high school and undergraduate internships to postdoctoral fellowships. Trainees conduct research focused on understanding, treating, and preventing infectious, immunologic, and allergic diseases in NIAID labs located in Maryland and Montana, where they have access to a unique scientific research training environment in basic, translational, and clinical research. NIAID strives to promote diversity and inclusion by recruiting and supporting trainees from underrepresented communities and disadvantaged backgrounds.

Graduate Research Fellowship Program

CANDIDATE PROFILE

Key Characteristics Sought by Review Committee

Reviewers evaluating applications submitted to the Graduate Research Fellowship Program may consider the following with respect to the Intellectual Merit Criterion: the potential of the applicant to advance knowledge based on a holistic analysis of the complete application, including the Personal, Relevant Background, and Future Goals Statement, Graduate Research Plan Statement, strength of the academic record, description of previous research experience or publication/presentations, and references.

Holistic review is a flexible, individualized way of assessing an applicant's interests and competencies by which balanced consideration is given to experiences, attributes, and academic achievements and, when considered in combination, how the applicant has demonstrated potential for significant research achievements in STEM and STEM education. Reviewers may consider the following with respect to the Broader Impacts Criterion: the potential of the applicant to benefit society and contribute to the achievement of specific, desired societal outcomes based on a holistic analysis of the complete application, including personal experiences, professional experiences, educational experiences, and future plans.

FELLOWSHIP PROGRAM

AWARD DETAILS

Emphasis

Academic, Foreign Service Career

Brief Description of the Award

The USAID Donald M. Payne International Development Graduate Fellowship Program seeks to attract outstanding individuals who have been historically underrepresented in the USAID Foreign Service and are interested in pursuing careers in the Foreign Service of the U.S. Agency for International Development (USAID). The Payne Fellowship provides up to $104,000 in benefits over two years for graduate school, internships, and professional development activities, and a unique pathway to the USAID Foreign Service.

Award Stipend/Benefits

The Payne Fellowship Program awards up to thirty fellowships valued at up to $52,000 annually for a two-year program. The award includes up to $24,000 per year toward tuition and mandatory fees for completion of a two-year master's degree in international development or another area of relevance to the work of the USAID Foreign Service at a U.S. institution; a $18,000 stipend for each academic year for room, board, books and other education-related expenses; and up to $10,000 per year in stipend, housing, transportation, and related expenses for summer placements. Fellows who successfully complete the Payne Program and USAID Foreign Service entry requirements will receive appointments as Foreign Service Officers with the U.S. Agency for International Development.

PRINCETON IN ASIA

AWARD DETAILS

Emphasis

Experiential, Travel

Brief Description of the Award

Princeton in Asia Fellowships foster mutual appreciation and cross-cultural understanding between the United States and Asia through immersive work fellowships in host organizations and communities. PiA fellowships span a variety of focus areas, including arts and culture, economic development, education, environmental sustainability, peace, justice, and access to information, public health, sports, and STEM. PiA aims to contribute to building a world where individuals share a mutual appreciation and respect for the diversity of cultures and perspectives and cultivates life-long bridges to Asia. The fellowship program offers Fellows a change in perspective, a job that matters and a community for life.

Award Stipend/Benefits

As employees of partnering host organizations, Fellows receive a stipend that covers the basic cost of living. Some positions include accommodation and round-trip airfare. Princeton in Asia covers Fellows' visa costs, fully subsidizes the cost of travel medical and emergency evacuation insurance and 24/7 medical and emergency assistance support, and offers grants for travel and language study.
