International Baccalaureate Credit

New Rules for International Baccalaureate (IB)

In accordance with the provisions of Senate Bill 111, The University of Texas at Dallas will award at least 24 hours of specific course college credit to those students who have earned an International Baccalaureate Diploma and present IB exam scores of 4 or higher. While the university will continue to award credit for specific exam scores on Higher Level tests to all students, additional credit will be available to those who complete the diploma program.

Freshmen entering for the 2006-2007 academic year must submit their International Baccalaureate transcript to The University of Texas at Dallas for review. The university will notify students of their eligibility for college credit but it is the student's responsibility, after consulting with an academic advisor, to petition to have specific credit awarded. The student must weigh the advantages of accepting college credit through IB exams against the possible impact such credit might have on tuition rebate eligibility, tuition charges for excessive hours, the Texas Be-On-Time student loan program, and their readiness for subsequent courses in an academic sequence.

UTD will notify students of their eligibility for IB credit by posting information on this web site and by links to other relevant web sites.

Faculty and administrators are now completing the process of identifying appropriate courses for additional IB credit. This information will be posted to this web site as it becomes available.

Students with IB Diplomas are eligible for all listed course credit.

Students without IB Diplomas are eligible for course credit only for scores listed in bold type.
