Course & Instructor Policies

Attendance and Participation

Attendance is mandatory. You will be given two absences that will not count against you, and any thereafter will be 3 points off starting at 100 for each missed class. If you arrive after roll has been taken it is your responsibility to remind the instructor you attended class that day. Failure to do so could result in an absence recorded and applied for that day. You will be considered late if you arrive after the warm up has begun and receive a ½ point deduction from your attendance points. A ½ point will be deducted every fifteen minutes thereafter until you arrive for class. You may not physically participate without the instructor's permission if you arrive more than fifteen minutes after the class has begun which may affect your participation grade. Classes may be made up, please speak to the instructor for various options. A total of 4 excused absences may be made up with the instructor's approval. Students making up absences in approved dance classes must turn in documentation that is dated and signed by the instructor teaching the class. All classes must be made up before the last two weeks of classes. If you were not able to participate in the class, you must write a one-page paper describing what you observed and giving comparisons between your class and the make up class. All classes must be made up before the last two weeks of the semester (before Fall Break/Thanksgiving Holiday)- no exceptions. Please note that unexcused absences, excused absences that are not made-up, and being tardy will also impact your participation grade.

Participation is graded on your level of participation in the class learning the given material, effort and execution, preparedness for class (including proper attire), and your own personal growth. Participation in class on a regular basis is extremely important to ensure a successful learning experience. Motivation to work diligently both in the classroom and beyond the classroom will increase the student's greatest potential. Each class has a value of 3 points awarded daily by attending class and fulfilling the preceding requirements. Points may be deducted if any of these requirements is unfulfilled.

Analysis: You are required to see two live dance productions and write a critique for at least one production and submit a ticket and program for the second. All performances must be dance concerts approved by the instructor. Critiques or the ticket/program will be due on Thurs. Oct. 8 and Tues. Nov. 19. The critiques must include detailed descriptions of no more than two dance pieces from the program you attended. If you do not choose the first or last piece of the program to describe, you must also include a brief summary of those pieces. Three points will be deducted for the omission of each. Papers must be submitted in 12 point font, double spaced and 2 full pages in length. Five points off for each day late.

Extra Credit: Extra credit may be received by attending additional dance performances. You may receive 1 point by just turning in a ticket and program or up to 3 if accompanied by a critique. The credit will be added to the final total of points accrued for the course at the end of the semester. Students may complete no more than two extra credit assignments - accepted until the last two weeks of regular classes.

When writing the critique include these points:

1. Did it tell a story, show a particular emotion, or make you feel a certain way? After each one of these questions, ask yourself why and then explain.
2. What was the music? List the title and composer. Did the choreography go with the music? How?
3. Did you like it? What made you like it or dislike it?
4. What was the movement like? What did the dancers do through the movement to help you come to conclusions from the previous questions?
5. How did the sets, costuming and lighting affect the piece?
6. Give the title and choreographer of the piece selected.

Write the critique assuming that I did not see the concert pieces and would understand what it was about from your description. Up to 15 points will be deducted for the omission of each point mentioned above.

Skill and Vocabulary

You will be expected to know the definition and how to execute specific movements given in technique class at a Beginning level. You may be tested verbally, physically and on paper. Assessments of skill will be taken during each technique class.

Final Project

The final project will be announced at a later time. Students will be graded on the ability to execute movement with both technical and performance proficiency during a choreographed performance in the classroom or on the theater stage.
