Course Pre-requisites, Co-requisites, and/or Other Restrictions

There are no formal prerequisites for this course. General academic skills of analytical thinking, comparison, essay writing, working with statistical material, map reading will be helpful.

Course Description

This course challenges students to understand the changes in the nature and outcomes of urbanization processes for people, the dynamic relationship of urban spatial organization and the built environment to politics, economics, cultures and societies. It explores the changing forms of the city over time and analyzes the variety of ways through which people have recreated urban life through time and across cultures. This course also introduces students to contemporary issues related to the urban built environment in various countries and the implications of political and economic changes.

Student Learning Objectives/Outcomes

Upon completing this class students will be able to:

- Describe how cities and urban areas have evolved over time
- Understand how urban culture and urban structure affect each other.
- Explain how processes of urban change affect development, neighborhood structure and growth, governance of urban space.
- Discuss the role of urban planning, the causes and consequences of growth, and the approaches used to minimize negative externalities associated with growth and urbanization.
- Enhance communication competence through mastering presentations skills for the audience, which possesses less knowledge.
- Demonstrate the ability to support ideas, findings, and/or claims by providing relevant evidence.
- This class will fulfill your C3 written and oral communication course requirement, should you choose to apply for the Certificate (<http://oue.utdallas.edu/home/c3/>).

You are also expected to write a 5 page paper or make a 10 minutes modern city presentation* during the class on 4/17/2013. This individual assignment will count 25% toward your grade. The Final Exam on May 10, 2013 will make 20% of your grade. All graded material will be assigned a numerical value on a scale of 100. Letter grades are given as follows: 97% and over A+; 93% to 96% A ; 90% to 92% A- ; 87% to 89% B+; 83% to 86% B; 80% to 82% B- ; 77% to 79% C+; 73% to 76% C ; 70% to 72% C- ; 67% to 69% D+ ; 63% to 66% D ; 60% to 62% D; Less than 60% F.

*Papers / presentations requirements are posted on e-learning.

Course & Instructor Policies

Attendance is crucial for the successful learning and will be taken each class. A good set of class notes will be extremely helpful if you plan excelling in this course. There is 1 bonus point for perfect attendance (max 2 missed classes) and a perfect set of notes (any 1-2 missed classes topic should be researched individually based on suggested material). Audience participation is encouraged. Consistent contribution to the class discussion in the form of interesting questions and/or comments may earn you another bonus point.

No makeup tests. (Individual consideration may be given in case of overwhelming circumstances). Late turned in papers will be assessed penalty (e-mail within 24 hours – 10% off, later – 50% off). Although extra help may be provided to students, the professor will not hold alternate lectures or release lecture notes to students.
