About the Instructor:

Read my Welcome Letter in eLearning! Watch the Welcome Video created by our Director Karen Baynham as well, it has important information about the course.

IMPORTANT: For this state-mandated core course, students must complete and pass all speech assignments by the due dates. Failure to post and/or deliver a speech by the due date and complete and pass the assignment will result in a failing grade for the course, no exceptions. To stay compliant with the face-to-face classes, no make-up speeches are permitted.

Course Pre-requisites, Co-requisites, and/or Other Restrictions

COMM 1311 is an introductory course that doesn't require prerequisites. It is assumed that students who enroll in the course have the grammatical, logical, and rhetorical skills necessary for university-level writing.

Catalog Course Description

COMM 1311 Course Description: The purpose of COMM 1311 is to introduce students to the study of communication via a broad survey-based course. The course will facilitate the acquisition of knowledge about communication research and theories and will provide students with skills to enhance their interpersonal, small group, public, and mediated/technology-based communication. COMM 1311 is primarily a “hands-on” application course which means that students must be consistently present online to engage in discussions, participate in role-play demonstrations, work in teams, and present and evaluate speeches.

General Education Core Objectives: Students will learn:

- Communication skills – Students will demonstrate effective written, oral and visual communication.
- Critical thinking skills – Students will engage in creative and/or innovative thinking, and/or inquiry, analysis, evaluation, synthesis of information, organizing concepts and constructing solutions
- Teamwork – Students will demonstrate the ability to work effectively with others to support a shared purpose or goal and consider different points of view.
- Personal responsibility – Students will demonstrate the ability to connect choices, actions and consequences to ethical decision-making

COMM 1311. Course Objectives: Students will learn:

- Communication skills; to engage processes and use skills to enhance communication competence in interpersonal, small group, public speaking, and technology-based contexts (assessed via the Small Talk activity, the Team Project, and the research-oriented informative speech, and the virtual Speech of Introduction).
- Critical thinking skills; to engage processes and use skills to enhance communication competence in interpersonal, small group, public speaking, and technology-based contexts (assessed via the digital Discussion Posts, research-oriented informative speech, and chapter quizzes).
- Teamwork; to integrate interpersonal skills with theories and concepts associated with successful small group communication in a team-based project (assessed via the semester team project)
- Personal responsibility; to identify ethical principles involved in communication situations and to apply these principles to daily life (assessed via participation in the “Case Study in Ethics”, “Ask the Ethicist” discussions, and digital Discussion Posts).

The course objectives are in line with the top 5 skills and qualities employers are seeking in college graduates, according to the National Association of College and Employers (NACE) Job Outlook 2014 and 2015 Survey results:

1. Ability to verbally communicate with persons inside and outside the organization
2. Ability to work in a team structure
3. Ability to make decisions and solve problem
4. Ability to plan, organize, and prioritize work
5. Ability to obtain and process information

Required Textbook and Materials

The textbook is required for success in COMM 1311. In fact, we use the textbook the very first week for chapter readings and a quiz!

Lane, Shelley D., Abigail, Ruth Anna., and Gooch, John Casey. Communication in a Civil Society. Routledge, Inc., 2014.
ISBN-10: 0-205-77021-5
ISBN-13: 978-0-205-77021-2

You can purchase a hard copy at the Off Campus bookstore for $121. 50 or buy the eBook format through the Routledge website below (Rentals are more cost effective). Either format will work for this course.

<https://www.vitalsource.com/referral?term=9781315450384>

- You need access to high quality webcam or video camera and an understanding of how to upload video in specified formats. You may use an iPhone, etc, but it must be handled as professionally as possible* (no “selfie” videos) and positioned on a stationary object. The Research-Oriented Informative Speech must be videotaped in front of a live audience of at least five adults. You will need an appropriate setting to record your speeches. Lastly, Power Point (or a similar presentation program) is required as a visual aid.
- High speed Internet and access to eLearning.
- A high degree of self-motivation; more than a traditional face-to-face class – this online class is rigorous and fast paced.
- We will be using Box to house your speech videos for this course – click on these instructions for accessing your existing UTD Box account, uploading your videos into Box, and posting your video into the eLearning assignment. <https://utdallas.box.com/comm1311>
- All UTD students already have an existing Box account.

COURSE POLICIES

No Late Work

To stay compliant with the face-to-face classes, no late speeches or quizzes are permitted. You must complete any assignment requiring a speech by the due date to pass this course, regardless of your standing in the course.

Technical difficulties with eLearning or Box are not an excuse – submit videos and take quizzes early to avoid any last-minute technical problems.

Class Participation and Attendance

Students should login daily to the online class. I use the tracking feature in eLearning to monitor how often students enter the course and monitor student activity. Just like you should be, I will be logging in every day as well. Students are also required to participate in all class activities such as discussion boards, group projects and virtual group meetings, etc.

Civility Clause -Virtual Classroom Citizenship

The First Amendment is protected in this class, but hate speech is not. Attacks against people, their beliefs, values, culture, race, sex, gender, sexual orientation, religion, or political affiliation will not be tolerated. Practice civility. Religious proselytizing of any kind is not permitted.

Because this is an online course, we will likely only know one another through typed conversation and video posts. You may know how tricky this can be, and how easy it is to give a wrong impression in writing, to say something that you did not mean to say, or to infer a tone that the writer did not mean. A funny comment can easily get misinterpreted as nasty, biting criticism. Because we are working on our communication skills in this course, and that can sometimes be a difficult learning process, please take extra effort in class to be supportive. That does not mean that we can't be thoughtful responders; it means there are civil ways of getting to a point. Give the kind of positive feedback that you would want for yourself. If, say, an emotionally gut-level topic comes up and someone has a stance that you do not agree with, do not be combative. Part of the goal of this class is to see others' points of view and civilly engage in a dialogue.

The textbook, Communication in a Civil Society, states that "civil communication allows you to speak your mind in a way that is respectful, demonstrates restraint, and is responsible" (Lane, 2014 p. 3). Communicating with civility is a requirement for this course. For example, students may comment about emotional issues during class discussions and disclose sensitive, personal opinions about wide ranging topics related to interpersonal communication. While passionate debate is acceptable, negative comments about individuals or groups are not acceptable. Similarly, criticism that is not constructive about a student's performance will not be tolerated. I will stop a discussion and/or critique and ask a student to leave the virtual classroom if I perceive that her/his communication is prejudicial, disrespectful, and/or "over-the-top."

In class, at work, and in life as a whole, a positive attitude will help you reach your goals while a negative attitude will likely impede your progress towards success. We practice civil positivity in this class. Top

Technical Requirements

In addition to a confident level of computer and Internet literacy, certain minimum technical requirements must be met to enable a successful learning experience. Please review the important technical requirements on the Getting Started with eLearning webpage. Top

Course Access and Navigation

This course was designed using eLearning. It is to be delivered entirely online. Students will use their UTD NetID account to login at: <http://elearning.utdallas.edu>. Please see more details on course access and navigation information.

To get familiar with the eLearning tool, please see the Student eLearning Tutorials.

UTD provides eLearning technical support 24 hours a day/7 days a week. Please use this link to access the UTD eLearning Support Center: <http://www.utdallas.edu/elearninghelp>.

Student Resources for Technical Help

1. For Box technical issues, email Nick McCormick at nxm067000@utdallas.edu
2. For eLearning issues, eLearning Help Desk, UTD eLearning Blog
3. Alert me about any issues as well!

Policy on Server Unavailability or Other Technical Difficulties

The university is committed to providing a reliable online course system to all users. However, in the event of any unexpected server outage or any unusual technical difficulty preventing students from completing a time sensitive assessment activity, the instructor will extend the time windows and provide an appropriate accommodation based on the situation. Students should immediately report any problems to the instructor and also contact the UTD eLearning Help Desk.

Communication Tools

This eLearning course has built-in communication tools which will be used for interaction and communication. Some external communication tools such as regular email will also be used during the semester. For more details, please visit the eLearning Tutorials webpage for video demonstrations on numerous tools in eLearning.

Interaction with Instructor

I will communicate with you using the Announcements, Student Lounge and Discussions tools as well as email your UTD email address and via My Grades. The best way to reach me is by emailing me at lari.tanner@utdallas.edu I will reply to student emails as quickly as possible (within 24-48 hours). Top

Additional Guidelines for Success in this Class:

1. This course is rigorous and multiple deadlines each week for the next 16 weeks. Do not get behind in your assignments. Expect to do large amounts of reading to be successful.
2. If you need help or have questions – I’m happy to assist! I won’t know you need help or are having difficulty unless you contact me.
3. Most assignments in this class require research and citations, both written and oral. Please follow the APA format for outlines as shown in the APA Style Guidebook, 6th edition, which you can find at bookstores and libraries. Or click on this link for more APA information.
<https://owl.english.purdue.edu/owl/resource/560/01/> Sources are to be “cited” orally in the speech and written in the speech outline as well as listed on the speech outline’s Reference page. Research will be discussed in class.
4. As computers tend to fail when we need them the most, save your work to multiple devices (i.e. USB device, back up hard drive) of your home computer. Also, remember to save your work. Computer failure is not a legitimate excuse for your work being late.

5. Disrespectful language and lack of civility will not be tolerated (to me or others, over any medium used in this class.)

University Policies and AccessAbility

The information contained in the following link constitutes the University's policies and procedures segment of the course syllabus, including Title IX. Please go to <http://go.utdallas.edu/syllabus-policies> for these policies.

Office of Student AccessAbility <http://www.utdallas.edu/studentaccess/>

UT Dallas is committed to providing equal educational opportunities for students with documented disabilities to all University courses and programs. Any student with a documented physical, psychological, or learning disability, which affects his/her academic performance, is eligible for services. If you need accommodations, please make an appointment with the Office of Student AccessAbility at: SSB 3.200 (3rd Floor in SSB), 972-883-2098.

OSA provides registered students with an accommodation letter to present to faculty members. The letter verifies that the student is qualified to receive certain accommodations. The accommodation letter should be presented to instructors of each course at the beginning of the semester. The approved accommodations should be discussed at that time. It is the student's responsibility to notify his/her professor of their needs.

Scholastic Honesty

The University has policies and discipline procedures regarding scholastic dishonesty. Detailed information is available on the UTD Judicial Affairs web page. All students are expected to maintain a high level of responsibility with respect to academic honesty. Students who violate University rules on scholastic dishonesty are subject to disciplinary penalties, including the possibility of failure in the course and/or dismissal from the University. Since such dishonesty harms the individual, all students and the integrity of the University, policies on scholastic dishonesty will be strictly enforced.

Overview of Assignments

Assignments are located in eLearning in the Weekly Learning Modules and/or the Major Assignments folder. Each week you'll find a new Learning Module open containing chapter assignments for the week. Refer to the syllabus and each Weekly Learning Module in eLearning for due dates.

Read below for brief descriptions of assignments:

I. Speech of Introduction:

You will be introducing yourself to your classmates and creating an online community by preparing a 2 to 2 ½ minute (maximum) speech and uploading it from your UTD Box account into the Speech of Introduction link in eLearning. You will be doing this during week 1. Specific instructions are located in the Major Assignments folder on the Course Homepage.

For many of you, this is a lot of technology to navigate and I want everyone to iron out potential problems and pitfalls early, by the first week of class. If you are unable or not equipped to follow the guidelines for posting presentations during this week, you should drop the course. Follow the assignment guidelines in the Major Assignments folder on the Course Homepage.

II. Chapter Quizzes:

Reading is an essential component of any college course, particularly in an online context. In addition to watching my mini lectures, voice-over PowerPoint presentations, and videos from public speaking experts, you will want to devote a large part of your study time to reading the text. For each chapter, I recommend that you complete the chapter activities at the end of each chapter prior to taking the Chapter Quiz. There are 13 chapter quizzes, each worth 20 points. The quizzes are found in the Chapter folders in the eLearning Weekly Learning Modules.

Each quiz has a maximum of 25 multiple choice and/or true false questions. You must complete each quiz by the due date as specified in the course calendar. You can access the quiz by clicking the quiz link in the Chapter Folder within each Learning Module. Each quiz is timed, and you only have one attempt within the 35-minute window. Please read the on-screen instructions carefully before you click "Begin". After each quiz is graded and released, you may go to My Grades to view your score.

III. Research-oriented Informative Speech and Outline:

You will be preparing a formal speech outline and presenting an extemporaneous research-oriented informative speech on the topic of "What do you want to do with your degree/major?" with PowerPoint slides as the visual aid. The assignment details are in the Major Assignments folder on the Course Homepage. You'll be uploading your speech from your UTD Box account into the Research-oriented Informative Speech link on the left-hand side menu in eLearning. This assignment is worth 200 points. I grade informative speeches rigorously. Prepare yourself early by reading ahead—chapters 11, 12, and 13. This is a research-oriented project – three source citations will be cited orally in the speech and cited within the outline.

Guidance on outlining will be discussed throughout the course.

- The Research-Oriented Informative Speech must be videotaped in front of a live audience of at least five adults. You will need an appropriate setting to record your speeches. Lastly, PowerPoint (or a similar presentation program) is required as a visual aid.

Informative Speech Peer Critiques: You will also critique your classmate's informative speech presentations (all of them, as you would in a face-to-face class). This will be the final (5th) Discussion during the unit on public speaking.

IV. Virtual Team Project

It is very common in the workplace to have your team members living/working in Canada, California, and Florida, while you work locally in Richardson and have to conduct virtual team meetings to complete a project by the deadline.

So for this project, you will be placed in a virtual group to create a research paper with corresponding PowerPoint slides. The work you do as a team from start to finish is all conducted online. This project is all about learning how to interact and adapt to each other while gaining new experiences in the world of communication, interpersonal skills and civility.

Follow the assignment guidelines in the Major Assignments folder on the Course Homepage.

V. Discussion Posts:

There are 5 formal discussions during the semester, each worth 20 points, totaling 100 points.

- You will be responsible for posting one original post using the "Discussions" link on the left-hand side of eLearning. Due dates will be posted in the Weekly Learning Modules folders found in eLearning as well as in the syllabus.
- After you post your original post, you will respond to any four of your colleague's posts, following the assignment guidelines, to promote civil discourse online as we would in the face-to-face course.
- Discussion in any class, online or face-to-face, takes time. Give yourself time to read each other's ideas and to respond to them, adding depth and breadth to the topic. I'm able to see how much time you're spending writing, reading, and responding in discussion areas.

VI. Interpersonal Theory Reflection Speech

The Theory Reflection Speech is an assignment encouraging you to reflect upon an interpersonal communication theory or concept more in depth by sharing a personal example or experience and how it may or may not be relevant in your own life experience. Choose a theory or concept from the interpersonal chapters 6, 7, or 8 in our textbook.

You will be preparing a speech outline and presenting an extemporaneous research-oriented informative speech on your chosen theory. Follow the assignment guidelines in the Major Assignments folder on the Course Homepage.
